

*You've landed a large global contract.
Which office can manage the project most profitably?*

Do you know ?

Only Oracle® Projects support enterprise lifecycle project management. You capture, validate and analyze the cost, performance and profit of every business activity. With global visibility across all projects, you can immediately view the status of your activities and respond proactively, assign new projects and ensure performance goals are met. Oracle Applications integrate your entire business—sales, service, supply chain, manufacturing, accounting, projects, human resources. Everything. Our applications capture all the information needed to provide a complete view of what's going on in your business. Every decision you make is based on up-to-date information and impact on shareholder value. We call it business intelligence. And it's from Oracle. Now you know. If you'd like to know even more—and who wouldn't—call Oracle.
